PROVO, UTAH

Note for the Reader.

The present volume is the thirteenth volume of the Registers of the Diocese of Hereford, which has been printed by the Shropshire Parish Register Society. It contains the first three volumes of the important Registers of Ludlow, extending from the year 1558 to 1719. The remaining five volumes of the Ludlow Registers, from 1719 to 1812, now in course of transcription, together with an Index to the whole (which is in preparation), will be printed in due course, and will form Volume XIV. of the Hereford Registers.

For the transcript of the present volume, our thanks are due to Mr. Henry T. Weyman, F.S.A., and Mr. T. R. Horton. The proofs have been most carefully collated with the original Registers by the Rev. Prebendary J. R. Burton, Rector of Bitterley.

We are also indebted to Mr. Weyman for a most interesting and valuable Introduction. It is confined to an account of the Church of St. Lawrence and of its Rectors, and a detailed description of the first three volumes of the Registers of Ludlow. It is intended that the Introduction to Volume XIV. shall contain an account of the Town and Castle, as well as a description of the next five volumes of the Registers.

It has been only possible to print this volume through the generous aid of the late Mrs. Seymour, the sister of the late Mr. Stanley Leighton, M.P., founder of the Society.

In this volume, as has been the plan adopted by the Council throughout, the Registers are not printed verbatim et literatim, but in abstract form, all mere verbiage being omitted, though every fact is recorded, and all occurrences, remarkable events, terriers, &c., given in the Registers are printed in full. The following abbreviations have been adopted :—

B.	—	Banns.	esq.	—	esquire.
bap.	—	baptized.	gent.	—	gentleman.

The Register

of Ludlow.

Volume I.

Ludlow Registers.

Ludlow is an ancient Borough situate in the Hundred of Munslow on the southern confines of the County of Salop. The parish of St. Lawrence was, until recent years, co-extensive with the Municipal Borough, but in 1880 a part, comprising the Gravel Hill district, which had become a suburb of the Town, was carved out of the Parish of Stanton Lacy and added to that of Ludlow. A new church dedicated to St. John the Evangelist was built in order to meet the spiritual wants of this new district. In 1901 the Borough was also extended and again took in the greater part, but not the whole, of the added parochial area as well as the old Castle of Ludlow which until that time was a separate civil parish. The area of the old Borough was 240 acres, and that of the present extended Borough 420 acres, while the area of the present Ecclesiastical Parish is approximately 1,614 acres. The population of the Borough is 5,926 according to the census of 1911, and that of the Ecclesiastical Parish is 6,079. Ludlow is in the Rural Deanery and Archdeaconry of Ludlow.

In addition to the Parish Church of St. Lawrence and the church of St. John mentioned above, there is in the Parish St. Leonard's Chapel, which was built on the site of the Carmelite Church of St. Leonard, and this standing in the centre of the present burial ground, takes the place of a Cemetery Chapel.

The Parish Church dedicated to Saint Lawrence is the largest Parish Church in the County of Salop, and one of the most interesting in the Kingdom. It is a vexed question whether Ludlow appears in Domesday Book, but whether it is the Lude mentioned in the old record or not, there is no reference to any Church existing at that time. As, however, Ludlow Castle was commenced within a year or two after that Survey it is safe to say that the town would very quickly have sprung up round the great Stronghold, and that one of the earliest buildings in that town would be the Parish Church. There is documentary evidence to prove that in 1199 the Norman Church, probably a very small one, had become too small for the wants of the Parish, and that a great re-construction then took place. No part of the Church remains which can be attributed to Norman days, though the late Mr. J. T. Irvine found in 1860 some foundations in the west end which belonged to the original Church. The Rev. D. H. S. Cranage, F.S.A., in his great work on the Churches of Shropshire (on which the writer has drawn freely for these notes) has no doubt that parts of the present building (including the south and west walls of the nave and south aisle, and the south and east walls of the Lady Chapel, and the north and east walls of St. John's Chapel) are portions of the re-construction of 1199, and that their architectural features support the documentary evidence. The flat buttresses on the south and west side, almost Norman in character, and the round headed piscina in the Lady Chapel, coupled with the semi-hexagonal string course are the features which can most easily be seen.

The south doorway is a fine specimen of Early English work, and there are jambs of the same period in the windows in the south aisle, and the trefoil-headed piscina in the Lady Chapel and the beautiful little window in the east wall of the chancel can safely be attributed to the 13th century too, but there is little else left which points very distinctively to that time.

The general appearance of the Church to-day is that of the 15th century, in which, with the exception of the north aisle and some other parts mentioned later it was again almost entirely re-constructed. The full length of the Church is 203 feet, and the width 128 feet across the transepts, and 78 feet across the nave and aisles. The tower, built about 1455, in the place of an earlier tower which had fallen some years previously, is 135 feet high, and was vaulted about 1500. It was thoroughly repaired and strengthened in 1890 at a cost of £8,000, and contains a fine peal of eight bells.

The south porch, a hexagonal building and almost unique, is attributed to the early decorated period, though Mr. Cranage says that it has been rebuilt after the old fashion in Perpendicular days. There is a room over the porch which was used as a deacon's chamber in the 15th and 16th centuries, and afterwards as a library. There was at one time a doorway from the upper room or parvise into the Church, probably opening on to a small gallery, which would enable the occupant to see the altar and other lights. These registers contain an interesting allusion to the Deacon in recording the death in 1606 of "Thomas Higs, deacon, he was of an hundred years and had been deacon 50 years." The north aisle, with its beautiful windows on the north side, was built about 1316, by Theobald de Verdon, whose arms, with those of his wives, Maud de Mortimer and Elizabeth de Clare, appear in original glass in the heads of the windows. The west window and the parapet of this aisle have the typical ball flower of Edward II.'s reign.

The north transept, which contained a Chapel dedicated to St. Margaret, was built in decorated days (about 1350), its walls being raised to their present height a century later. This was in after days the Fletchers' Chancel. The north chancel aisle, dedicated to St. John the Evangelist, was the Chapel of the Palmers' Gild, a religious society founded in Ludlow in the reign of Edward I. (perhaps earlier), which obtained great possessions and to which the Church and the town undoubtedly owe much. In connection with this Gild there was a College of Priests attached to the Church. The canopy over the altar in this Chapel (date about 1500) is believed to be nearly, if not quite, unique, and the 15th century glass in all the windows especially the east window, is exceptionally fine.

The chancel, which is 80 feet long, though it presents an entirely perpendicular appearance, has been built at different times. The western end, as far as the chancel aisles, is 1199 work, though the arches were rebuilt about 1450, the next two bays, as far as the present altar rails, were built about 1275—1300, and the chancel extended to its present length in 1445. The Choir Stalls, with their exceedingly fine set of misericords, were made in 1447, though some may be earlier. These misereres deserve great attention, and are noticed in all the standard works on the subject. Many of them are repeated in the carvings of the chancel roof, which is about the same date. The Poppy heads on the south side of the stalls are fine, especially that of "Our Lady of Pity." The Reredos is of decorated date, but has been restored, while the 15th century glass in the windows is very beautiful. The window on the south side of the Sanctuary is probably unique, as it contains representations of the last six commandments numbered, not in Anglican style but in Roman Catholic, therefore being clearly pre-Reformation, and each panel depicts not only a commandment but a breach of it. There is a mysterious chamber behind the Reredos, the use of which has never been satisfactorily explained, and it need only be said here that Stukeley, writing in 1722, says of it. "In the eastern angle of the choir is a closet anciently called God's House, where the priests locked up their roods, wafers, and such things."

The South Chancel Aisle (the Lady Chapel) has been much altered at various times. The lower part of the walls, and the south door, now blocked, are 1199 work, while the east window is decorated, the glass being also 14th century, though much restored), and the upper part and the south windows perpendicular. The Table of Commandments in this Chapel is one of the original tables set up by order of Queen Elizabeth.

The South Transept, forming a Chantry Chapel dedicated to St. Catherine and used in later days as the Cordwainers' and Weavers' Chancel, was probably built in the earlier half of the 13th century, and its walls raised about 1450. The Town fire engines were for many years kept in this transept.

The Font is probably Norman. The Organ was originally given in 1764 by Lord Powis, but has been since added to and improved.

There are some fine monuments in the Church, notably those of Sir John Bridgeman (1637) in St. John's Chapel, Sir Robert Townshend (1581), Edmund Walter (1592), Edward Waties (1635), and Ambrosia Sydney (1574) in the Chancel, and of Lady Eure (1612) in the South Transept.

The Screens are a great feature of the Church, especially the central Rood Screen and that in St. John's Chapel, both works of the 15th century.

There were at one time upwards of 20 Chantry Chapels in the Church, a list of which, with their various positions in the Church is as follows:—1, High Altar; 2, Rood Chancel, under the tower; 3, Lady Chapel in the South Chancel Aisle; 4, St. Catherine, in the South Transept; 5, St. Eligius, east end of South Aisle; 6, All Saints, in the South Aisle next St. Eligius; 7, Warwick Chantry, against south-west pillar of tower; 8, St. Edmund the King, west of south door; 9, St. John the Baptist, west end of South Aisle; 10, St. Mary and St. Gabriel (Beaupie's Chantry); 11, Holy Trinity (Hosiers' Chantry); 12, Invention of St. Catherine (Cooke's Chantry), all in the west end of the nave; 13, St. Stephen's Chancel; 14, Wyatt's Chancel; 15, St. Andrew's Chapel (all in the North Aisle); 16, St. Margaret's Chancel (North Transept); 17, St. John's Chapel (North Chancel Aisle); 18, St. George's Chancel,; 19, Altar of the Cross; and 20, Chantry of St. Mary and John. The position of the last three cannot be assigned with any certainty.

The Parish Register Abstract of 1831 gives the following particulars of the Ludlow Registers:—

Ludlow R., Nos. I.—IV. contain: Baptisms, A.D. 1585—1647, 1660—1755; Burials, 1558—1647, 1660—1684, 1719—1755; Marriages, 1558—1647, 1660—1684, 1719—1753. Nos. V. and VI., Baptisms, Burials, 1756—1812. Nos. VII. and VIII., Marriages, 1754—1812. There is evidently an error in the omission of the Burials and Marriages between 1684 and 1719.

The report of Parish Documents issued by the Salop County Council in 1903, contains this account of the Ludlow Registers prior to the year 1812:—

General Register, 1558—1642.
do. 1643—1685.
do. 1685—1719. Note there is a Terrier at the end of this register dated 1735.
General Register, 1719—1755.
Register of Baptisms and Burials, 1756—1812.
do. Banns and Marriages, 1754—1788.
do. Marriages, 1789—1812.

Volume I. of the Ludlow Registers is a parchment book of 153 leaves, in a vellum cover. Its length is 13¾ inches, breadth 7⅞ inches, thickness 1½ inches. The earliest date in it is 28th January, 1558—9, and it extends to 23rd March, 1642—3. The entries up to 1597 are regular and uniform, and written with the same ink and apparently by the same person, so that this is most likely a statutory copy. There are few words quite illegible, but some of the writing is faint and difficult to decipher. The writing from 1600—1603 is large and legible, and that from May, 1603, to November, 1604, is small but legible. On the 30th December, 1604, James Crowther (the Rector) took charge of the register, and he is the first who signs his name at the end of each page. His writing is large but poor and difficult to read in many places. Thomas Colbatch begins 28th August, 1625, and the writing is only indifferent, but Richard Fletcher, who commenced his work on 2nd February, 1637—8, wielded his pen with remarkable skill, the writing being beautifully legible and clear. The briefs, copies of wills, etc., at the end of this volume were inserted later, and in most cases the names of the witnesses to the authenticity of the copies are autographs. These briefs and copies of wills are of great interest. The names of the Churchwardens for each year are given.

Volume II. is a parchment book, 12¼ inches by 6¾ inches, in a vellum cover, fastened by brass clasps, one of which is missing. On the cover is written "1643 to end of 1684." The order of its contents is as follows:—

Weddings, 1643 to 1646, and 1661 to 1663.
"Remains of Burialls in 1668."
Christenings, 1643 to 1646, and 1661 to 1668.
Burials, 1643 to 1646, and 1661 to 1668.
Weddings, 1669 to 1684.
Christenings, 1669 to 1684.
Burials, 1669 to 1684

There are no entries from 1646 to 1661. The earlier part of the volume contains many burials of soldiers. The portion from 1643 to 1646 is in quite a different handwriting to that from 1661 to 1668. Richard Fletcher, rector, signs from 1643 to 1646, and Ralph Fenton, rector, from 1661 to 1684.

Volume III. is a parchment book of 90 leaves, in a vellum cover, size 14⅛ inches by 6½ inches. It contains baptisms, burials, and marriages from 26th March, 1685, to 21st March, 1718—19. It is well written and legible throughout. The entries, which are in English, are written in Court-hand until 12th April, 1686; then in ordinary handwriting, perhaps that of Richard Bulkeley, rector, from 1686 to 1701; and then in another hand, perhaps that of Charles Fenton, rector, to 1710; and in September, 1710, the writing again changes. The rector signs each page to 1710; the churchwardens only to 1701. The rectors who occur in this volume are Ralph Fenton, buried 8th May, 1685; Dr. Richard Bulkeley, who was buried 24th December, 1701; and Charles Fenton after 1702. At the end of this volume is a Terrier, dated in 1735.

The registers contain many entries of great interest. In 1574—5, Feb. 22nd, there is the record of the burial of Ambrosia Sydney, daughter of Sir Henry Sydney, and in 1586, May, the following entry:—"Memorandum "that the 8th May the heart of the noble Knight, Sir Henry Sydney, Lord "President of Wales, was here buried in the Chancel as by his will he had "commanded." In 1593—4, January 29th, is the burial of "Edmund Walter, Esquire, Chief Justice of South Wales"; in 1602, that of Thomas Evans, Attorney to the Council; in 1603, that of Thomas Sanders, Clerk to the Council, and David Lloyd, Marshal; in 1598, John Prickard, "Bruer to the Castle," Randle Tyther Pursuivant. In 1611—12, March 19th, appears the burial of "Marie, w. of Ralphe Lord Eure" (to whom there is a beautiful alabaster memorial in the south transept which was originally on the south side of the High Altar), and on the 1st April, 1617, is the burial of "Ralphe Lord Eure, late Lord President," but although he is the only Lord President of the Council of the Marches of Wales, who was buried in Ludlow Church, there is no monument to his memory. There are various other entries of the burials of those who held high judicial and other offices in connection with the Council and of their relatives, such as 1616, April 13, Sir Richard Lewknor, Knight, Chief Justice of Chester; 1629, April 3rd, Martha, wife of the Worshipful Mr. Justice Waties, and in 1635, that of Mr. Waties himself, and in 1637—8, February 10th, Sir John Bridgman, Knight, Chief Justice of Chester.

There are also the following entries of note in the first volume:—

1582, April 13. Sir Thomas Ragland, Knight, stranger, buried.
1614, Nov. 5. Sir John Townshend, Knight (baptism of his son).
1633, April 23. Dame Mary Littleton, buried.
1618, May 26. Robert Berrie, Esquire, buried.
(He was M.P. for Ludlow, 1584—93 and 1601—1614).
1587, April 9. Edward Littleton and Mary Walter married.
This was Sir Edward Littleton, of Henley, C.J. of North Wales, and Mary Walter was daughter of Edmund Walter, C.J. of South Wales.

Before the suppression of the Religious Houses there was a College of Priests attached to the Parish Church, and many of these no doubt remained in the town until their deaths. There are now, and there have been ever since 1552, two other Clergymen, in addition to the Rector, on the Parish Church staff, namely, a "Preacher" or Lecturer, and an "Assistant to the Rector," (sometimes, though incorrectly, styled the Reader). These facts may account for many entries of Clergymen mentioned in the Registers:—

1558, April 28.—James Garnar, parson.
1559, April 15.—Sir William Wyet, priest.
1565, Nov. 22.—Sir Robert Bawden, priest.
1569, Sept. 4.—Sir John Symkis, priest.
Dec. 2.—Thomas Butler, priest.
1576.—Thomas Hopkins, parson of this town.
1582.—Richard Bagge, cler., stranger.
1582.—Richard Taylor, cler.
1589.—Richard Davies, cler.
1594, Oct. 14.—Thomas Harley, clericus.
1601.—James Crowther, preacher.
1602.—John Peers, cler.
1608.—John Floyd, cler.
1612.—Griffith Toy, cler.
Richard Palfrey, cler.
1613—1621.—Thomas Kaye, preacher.
1615.—John David, priest.
1631—1636.—Thomas Fisher, preacher.
1632, Dec. 20.—James Crowther, cler., late Parson of Ludlow.
1632—3.—Rees ap Owen, cler.
1635.—John Smalman, cler.
1637, Oct. 26.—Thomas Colbatch, Parson of Ludlow.
1640, Oct. 28.—Robert Horne, sometime Parson of Ludlow.
1646, March 26.—Thomas Fisher, clerk (he was lecturer).
1681, April 25.—Samuel Newborough, clerk (married).
1685, May 8.—Ralphe Fenton.
1701, Dec. 24.—Richard Bulkeley.
1703.—Son of Richard Oakley, clerk (baptized).

The Civil Wars of the Commonwealth took their toll in Ludlow, as the Register of Burials bears testimony. In March, 1643—4, there are entries of the burials of 16 soldiers, and in the following months of 31 more, while the burials of the following officers are recorded:—Lieut.-Col. Richard Thurland, Captain Walter Fowler, Lieut. Thomas Eaden, Captain Robert Hookes, Captain Thomas Hill, Captain William Johnson, Captain Walter Bushel, Col. Richard Eliot, and Sir Gilbert Gerard, Knight, the last four and several soldiers being all buried in March and April, 1646, when Ludlow Castle was still being held for the King. Sir Gilbert Gerard had been Governor of Worcester, and was commanding the Life Guards of his brother, General Gerard's army.

The registers bear ample testimony to the mortality which was caused in Ludlow as in other places by epidemics. The average yearly death-rate up to 1587 was about 60, but in that year it sprung up to no less than 199. In the Early Chronicles of Shrewsbury it is recorded that in this same year a strange sickness named "The Burning Ague" reigned all England over, and especially in Shrewsbury, and probably it was this disease which also attacked Ludlow. Two Masters of the Grammar School, Ralphe Banford and Thomas Rascoll, succumbed within two months. In 1595 there was "a great sickness of small-pox in Shrewsbury," and in that year and in 1597, there were over 100 burials in each year. In 1609, the plague attacked Ludlow, and the burials in that year were 147. The entries of those who died in Ludlow of this terrible disease are marked with a cross, and it will be seen that whole families were carried off, for instance, Richard Shrawley, his wife and 5 children were all buried within a period of 19 days, and in other cases members of the same family were buried within a day or two of each other. There were again serious epidemics in 1623, 1624, and 1636, when the burials were respectively 126, 172 and 150, and it is well known that plague was in these years severe in the whole kingdom. There was evidently another epidemic in and about 1675, when the number of burials was quite abnormal.

These registers give valuable information as to the various trades and occupations of the inhabitants of the town. The following list, extracted from the first register, may be of interest:—"Attorney, baker, barber, butcher, bowier, capper cutler, cordwainer, clothier, counsellor, carrier, currier, card-maker, carpenter, carter, doctor, fisher, glover, haberdasher, hatter, innholder, labourer, mason, mercer, milward, miner, ostler, plasterer, pedlar, shearman, smith, saddler, sawyer, shoemaker, singing man, tailor, tucker (fuller), tiler, tapster, tanner, victualler, weaver, writer, walker (fuller). The descriptions pauper, stranger, and alien, appear frequently in the registers.

There are two centenarians mentioned, namely, "Thomas Higgs, deacon, he was 100 years old and had been deacon 50 years," and in January, 1616—17, Margerie Blashfield, widow, "an hundred years old."

There are various entries of crimes, and in this connection it must be remembered that the Court of Quarter Sessions in Ludlow had power to sentence to death, and few Courts passed without this power being exercised. No doubt these criminals would not be accorded the rite of burial in consecrated ground, still there are various curious entries such as "1607, Nov. 26, John Powell, died in gaol for murder," and in the previous month there is an entry "William Patchet, murdered," in 1578, "David ap Powell ap Thomas, hanged"; 1584, John Bedow, slain; 1611, Elinor Allen, felon de se; 1613, May 5th, Ellis Morris, slain in the Castle by William Clench; 1616, Thomas Jones, occisus; 1619, Aug. 29, Richard Patchet, slain, and 1621, Nov. 20, Humfrey Probert, stabbed with shears," while there are several entries of the burials of "Prisoners" and not a few were "drowned."

Members of the following families (inter alia) are described in the first register as esquires:—Walter, Townshend, Foxe, Bayliss, Littleton, Powell, Hill, Waties, Bridgeman, Bels or Betts, Berry, Persal, Blashfield, Purslow, Price, while very many are styled "gentleman" or generosus.

The principal families mentioned in the second and third registers (pages 389—714 below) are Charlton, Blunden, Lane, Long, Vaughan, Townshend, Foxe, Newton, Stedman, Littleton, Salwey, Lacon, and Cornewall. The persons of title mentioned are Sir Walter Long, Knight and Bart., married (page 394), Sir Henry Frederick Thynne (page 400), Lady Rowse (565), Sir Walter Williams, Bart., buried 1694, May 29, and the Lady Walcot (576), while possibly the most interesting marriage is that of Sir Job Charlton and Dorothy Blunden on the 31st March, 1646.

The most striking entries in the second and third registers are probably the following burials :—

1647, Aug. 4.—Rowland Higgins, senr., one of His Majesty's messengers, &c.

1681, Sept. 20.—The Irish Poste.
(The writer cannot explain this).

1714—15, Jan. 1.—John Wm. Ho Willigee, eldest son of the King of the Coluzzaes, an Indian nation upon Cape Florida, in America.

The right of presentation to the Rectory rested in the 12th and early part of the 13th century with the family of De Lacy, who were Lords of Ludlow. Upon the death of Walter de Lacy in 1241, Ludlow and the Advowson of the Church passed to his two granddaughters as co-heiresses, the elder of whom married Peter de Geneville, and Margery the younger married John de Verdon. In 1277 a dispute arose as to the right of presentation, which seems to have been settled by the representative of each co-heiress presenting in turn. This arrangement seems to have been carried out for almost 100 years, when the advowson apparently passed to one of the co-heiresses of John de Verdon, who married Sir John Crophull, who presented in right of his wife in 1372. Sir John left a daughter Agnes, who with her first husband John Merbury, presented to the living in 1420 and 1435. John Merbury having died, his widow married Walter Devereux, and through him the advowson passed to his descendant Lord Ferrers of Chartley, in whose family it remained until the beginning of the 16th century. It then fell to the King, and it remained Crown property until the middle of the 19th century, and was sold to an Ancestress of the present patron, the Earl of Plymouth.

The following list of the Rectors of Ludlow incorporates the lists published in Mr. R. H. Clive's Documents connected with Ludlow, page 35, and Mr. Eyton's Antiquities of Shropshire, vol. V., page 295, but considerable additions have been made to those lists from the Ludlow Records, the Parish Registers, and other sources. The list has been collated with the Bishop's Registers at Hereford, but these latter are not complete. Unfortunately they are missing between the years 1492 and 1502, 1553 and 1561, and during the Commonwealth, which are the times most necessary for the revision of the following list :—
